OFFSET LEFT or RADIAL - What really controls speed?

Using radar, speed studies were performed at different roundabouts to evaluate speed reduction at the entry curves and travel speeds at the exit crosswalks.

Offset left entries had greater deflection and similar speed control compared with radial entries but had noticeably higher speeds at exit crosswalks.

Dan Dovey, P.E.

King County